American Symphonic Band of the Air

Dr. William D. Revelli — Guest Conductor

Air is an important new organization. Musicians in the country — picked from all over the country. It is, first of all, a top quality organization of highly skilled performers and artists.

A symphonic concert. It is not only a variety of pieces which are overfamiliar to you. Here, for example, is a novel and interesting piece, the Kiddie Ballet, which includes a dramatic game of cops and robbers.

The piece "El Relicario" is included along with the "Symphony in D minor" by Hector Berlioz, who has often been called the father of the symphony.

The American Symphonic Band of the Air is to create a new type of band and concerting. As Guest Conductor for the first time, Dr. William D. Revelli who, for more than 20 years, has worked with leading bands of America.

In the five years preceding his appointment to the University of Michigan, Dr. Revelli achieved the feat of winning five consecutive National Championships with a high school band—the high school band of the University of Michigan grew from a faculty of
