

I would enjoy the biography you sent me about hardly appreciate your thoughtful note! In reading it and there are a lot mistakes in it - Here goes!
Daddy was born in 1875 not 1883. All right growing up!
I remember him kidding me about being 4 years older than he - her birth day was Feb. 24 - 1879 - They were married Oct 1 - 1902 - I love their wedding invitation in my album. Another thing that would have been nice in the article about dad was that in 1910 the famous Lady Empress Carrie Jacob Bond came to dad's office on Clark st & had him make the 1st piano arr. of her world famous hit - "I Love you truly" - sung at many weddings "Just a Way say for you" & "The End of a Perfect Day" - then daddy took her to N.Y. & have them published & these arrangements he made really started him in his music business to become known & the rockie history.
The number one he arranged for was Eva Tangway and today she'd be considered a ROCK STAR - ha! Her song was "I don't care - I don't care" & it was a big hit - believe me Daddy thought "Fire in Spain" was a mild success but not like "Hungry Fire in Spain" - that was really going - then percussion & many times I heard him say - "and the re.
with a roll of the drum, gang of the symbol - that will wake them up" - isn't that a cute remark?

My - I'm glad I've been knowing him. He - As the time goes on my memories of him get dimper & dimper - & you'd love to see him, too - Such wonderful parents I had - with a son - Much love - Mom
