This is a work in progress and probably contains error and omission. Use it accordingly. The more recent generations were removed to protect the privacy of most of the living.

1. James Alford #225 b. about 1715, Virginia, m. about 1745, in Virginia, Lucy Bailey #226, b. 1715/25, Virginia. James died May 26 1782, Fluvanna Co., VA. Was he the James Alford who birth was registered in St. Peter's Parish in New Kent County in 1713- son of James Alford? [Probably Not!!]

It was probably he who bought land September 16, 1740 in Goochland County.

Was Lucy one of the Lucy Baileys born in New Kent County- daughter of Thomas in 1715 or daughter of John and Anna in 1722?

G. C. Alfred was listed as the head of a household consisting of one free white male of 30 and under 40 years of age, one of 5 and under 10, one free white female of 30 and under 40, one male slave of 30 and under 55, one of under 10, two female slaves of 10 and under 24, and one of under 10, residing in Washington County, Kentucky, in the Sixth Census of the United States, 1840. One member of the household was employed in agriculture, while another was of a learned profession (Page 110).

On 13 Sep 1850, G. C. Alfred, farmer, 43, having real estate worth $7,500, was listed as the head of a household consisting of himself, his wife, Martha, 41, John R. Duncan, 21, and Matthew F. Duncan, 29, residing in Washington County, Kentucky, in the Seventh Census of the United States (Dwelling House 617, Family Number 617, Page 174 (346?)).

Granville C. Alford served as a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives from Washington County from 1851-1853 (Collins, HISTORY OF KENTUCKY, II, 749).

Dr. Granville C. and Lucy Jane (Trent) Alford lived in a house on the road from Duncansville to Bloomfield about 8 miles below Danville, just at the edge of Washington County. He kept a small grocery store in the house. It was at that house that he was murdered with an ax on the night of 27

May 1873. His body was dragged from the house toward the orchard, where it was found the following morning by Lucy Jane, who had heard her husband admit some callers, but who fell asleep and slept soundly until the morning. It was subsequently established that he had been murdered by two brothers, George Miller Alford, 6 feet tall, said to have been a very handsome mulatto of about 27 (or 23) years of age, and Edward (Ned) Alford, 5' 10" tall, and about 21 years of age. They had been his slaves before emancipation. Miller Alford had served some time in the army in Texas, and it was thought that they were making for there on stolen horses. The ferryman at Munday's Landing, on the Kentucky River in Mercer County, volunteered the information that he had ferried two negro men, and their horses, across the river on the night of the murder. The ferryman, A. R. Elkins, was subpoenaed as a witness for the trial of Lucy Jane Alford, since some boots, an old loaded pistol, and an old carpet bag belonging to George Alford were found near the ferry crossing. George Alford was apprehended in Berks County, Pennsylvania, and brought back to Springfield, Kentucky, in July 1873. He was tried for the murder and hanged on 1 May 1874. When arrested, he had on his person a book, said to be Mrs. Alford's, which contained a lock of hair, said to be hers. Thus, Lucy Jane was arrested on 6 Mch 1874, and tried as an accomplice in the murder. She was released on bail of $2,500 on 11 Mch 1874. The trial was originally scheduled for the March 1874 term of the Washington County Circuit Court, but the venue was changed to Mercer County, where she was found "Not Guilty" by the jury. It appears that Lucy Jane wrote some letters to Ned Alford for his wife, who was also named Lucy Alford. At the trial, she appeared heavily veiled and in deep mourning. When the prosecuting attorney, Phil B. Thompson, held the lock of hair before the jury, she arose dramatically, threw off her veil, and defied him to compare it with her hair. Ned Alford was not apprehended until 1916, in Bristol, Tennessee, and was never tried. Lucy Jane (Trent) Alford died on 15 Aug 1917 at Central State Hospital in Lakeland, Kentucky, from "Exhaustion from Senile Psychosis". She had been a resident of Oldham County about five years earlier before she entered the hospital (Commonwealth of Kentucky Death Certificate File Number 22777).

THIS FELLOW IS A REAL PROBLEM !!!!! Donna Salyers says she has seen his name written with middle initial of L, B, G and D. On legal documents it is the latter. He was buried as Madison D. Alfred. Stretching the imagination he might have been listed as George Madison or Madison George in census records.

In the 1860 census there is a George Alford 40 with wife Sarah 30. Children listed were Bell 12, Delilah 8, and Grandville 6. If they were married in 1852 it is improbable they had a 12 year old child.

In 1850 there is a Madisson Alford b. ca 1829 enumerated with his mother Nancy Alford, brother George and George's wife Frances along with their 6 month old daughter Rosa Bella. It's thought that the Bell in 1860 is a niece.

However, in 1880 he was enumerated as Madison D. with wife Nancy and son Charles M. He was enumerated with son Ellis Alford in 1900 Marion Co.

I don't know if it helps, but Annie's obituary says that her father, William George Alford, was "a prominent farmer and citizen of the vicinity of Dutchtown" (near Cape Girardeau). Also, my late great-aunt Lilly Brucher Gehrs left the following notes on Annie's family (notes in parentheses are Karen Stanley's):

"Andrew Cracraft married Delane Lewis between 1770 and 18???. One daughter, Nancy, married Dr. A. J. Renfro from Kentucky, a pioneer of Cape County who lived in the Dutchtown and Allenville area. The other daughter, Martha Jane, married Blemus Howard Groves. Dr. A. J. Renfro and Nancy Cracraft had several children including Mary, born July 26, 1840; twins Joseph W. and Martha Jane, born Nov. 9, 1841; Louisa E., Nov. 26, 1843; and David, Feb. 15, 1846. Martha Jane Renfro married Roger W. Groves, her cousin; their children included Emma O'Neal, Mattie O'Neal, Marion, Mabel Hitchcock, Walter, and Andrew.

"Louisa E. Renfro married William George Alford. She was his second wife. Mr. Alford had several children when he married Louisa Renfro: Will, Thomas, and Betty. William George Alford and Louisa Renfro Alford had three children: Annie Lucy, born Jan. 1, 1868; Jack, about two years younger; and Emma, who died at age of 9 years after her mother died.

"When Louisa Renfro Alford died she left her 3 children in charge of their half brother Will, and he made a home for them. He was a bachelor, engaged to Pauline Brune of Cape G. Will Alford was married to Pauline sooner than they had planned so she could help make a home for these children. The youngest girl died. Annie and Jack lived in Will Alford's home and went to Campster School until old enough to take care of themselves.

"Jack did farm work as his father and Uncle Will had. (Maybe she means his half-brother Will.) When Annie was 18 years old there was not much work for fam girls. Mrs. Louis Houck took Annie to live at Elmwood, the Houck home, and she learned homemaking, to train servants, entertain, etc. (Note: Annie and Will Brucher, Louis Houck's nephew, had been pupils together at Campster School, and they had presumably been keeping company. While Annie was at Elmwood, Will Brucher was off working on the railroads to earn enough money to marry Annie.)

"In October 1891 Will Brucher had saved enough money to return to Cape Girardeau to marry Annie Lucy Alford. They were married at Elmwood, the Houck home, October 21, 1891. Mr. and Mrs. Houck were the witnesses, Will Alford (the half-brother, I assume) gave the bride away, and the ceremony was performed by Reverend Arthur of the Christ Episcopal Church, Cape Girardeau, in the east parlor of Elmwood."

Jessamine Bland reported they married Jan 20, 1881 at the home of Aaron Robinson with P. H. Alfred and Z. Robinson witnesses. Her note: "If this was Amanda, dau. of Peyton H. Alford then she married late in life." Maybe they were just making it legal.
