Courage and Faith Built Up Texas Missions-- Freedom of Worship Won With Fists and Guns

ALFORD SPURNS THREAT

In the Spring of 1832, Needham J. Alford, a Methodist preacher and Sumner Bacon, a Cumberland Presbyterian, held a two-day meeting in Sabine County, near where the town of Milam now stands. Mexican officials had forbidden the meeting and there was other opposition. The preachers were planning to fill their appointment. Just before the hour, a person appeared on the ground declaring he would horsewhip the first preacher who entered the stand. Alford arrived and someone repeated the threat to him. "Well," said he, "I am as able to take a whipping as any man on this ground."

Alford was a muscular, strongly built man, a stranger to fear, who had gone by the name of the "Bulldog Preacher" in Louisiana. The antagonist looked for a moment at the brawny arm of the preacher stretched out at full length over the buck board, and quietly retired. - Martha Wolverton England.

One of Tressie Bowman's records show that he married a Mary Smith September 18, 1875 but until some other evidence shows up Mary will not be listed as a spouse. It seems likely that there was no Richard but rather confusion caused by Needham B.'s nickname - "Dick." He was not listed in the family bible.

Needham died Apr 17 1908, Texas, buried: Hemphill Cemetery, Sabine Co., TX. His nickname of "Dick" probably accounts for some of the apparent erroneous reports of a Richard Alford. He always said that as long as he could walk to the altar that he would not live alone. He did not live alone but he did die alone. Dicy went to Louisiana to visit her family. The Sabine River flooded and she was unable to return on time as the ferry was not running. When she got home Needham was dead and buried. Family was with him but his wife was not.

Frances: She was previously married to A. L. Steele.

Mary: She was previously married- listed as Mrs.

Dicy: After Needham's death Dicy moved back to Louisiana and lived with daughter Ada Graves.
