

RELATIONSHIP CHART

Some of you will probably be trying to figure out your relationship with someone else at the reunion or whose name you have seen someplace. It can be done easily with the chart below.

First determine the most recent ancestor you and the other person have in common, ie the COMMON ANCESTOR.

Start with the Common Ancestor, or in the upper left.

Then follow the lineage to you across the top of the chart. As an example lets pretend that you are the second great grandchild of the common ancestor That would put you in column "4".

Next follow the lineage of the other person down the left side of the chart. And lets pretend that they are the third great grandchild so you are on line "5".

Follow the column and the line down and across the chart until they meet. The chart tells you that you are Third Cousins, Once Removed.

You can see the pattern of the chart, and if necessary extend the generations to suit your needs.
