Memorandum:

Today, I checked through the index file to the old Land Grant Books in the office of the Secretary of State, Atlanta. Did not have time, today, to check and get a description of the land covered by all of the grants listed. I did check for the description of those carrying a grant of 287 $\frac{1}{4}$  acres, for these, unquestionable, were based upon services rendered as Soldiers in the Revolution. So, I list these names and what I jotted down from the Index card file prepared and maintained by the Secretary of ~~XXXX~~ State.

It should be remembered that these grants or warrants were to the designated number of acres in the county named (not necessarily, the county of the residence of the grantee named in the deed from the State. This had to be followed up by a survey, the making of a plat of same, and the filing of such plat in the Office of the Secretary of State. I will run down this survey index to get a location of the property, etc., at the first opportunity, but since this advance information may be helpful to the family in building up our projected family history, I am typing it out now for such purposes.

On another list, made from this Index today, I have ran down the descriptions named in the deed or warrant from the State, because that list, I am sure, went to a Revolutionary Soldier (the 287 $\frac{1}{4}$  acres deeds).

Some of these names, of course, may not be in your family or of direct concern to you, but they are among those I am working on at the moment and will not make a separate list for each family name. Necessarily, the list is arranged or grouped together for my own convenience, etc.

Note: I am repeating the scheme used in the Index-card file, to save time and space, namely: surname, first, then given names, followed by the name of county where the land is located, number of the Book of Grants and page, number of acres and year grant or deed from the State was made. (Year not given on first two deeds)
